Re: Price Change

Dear Bo

As you may be aware, the Inflation Reduction Act and continued industrial growth in the US is driving demand for new steel mills, more electric vehicles, copper, gold and lithium mining, LNG export facilities and more. This industrial growth has generated a significant increase in demand for lime.

Your price at current quantities effective January 1, 2024, FOB Lhoist Plant:

Shipping Point	Product
US23 Henderson	1107 Type S - Hydrated Lime - Bagged

Freight and fuel surcharge rates, if applicable, will be adjusted as the market necessitates.

To properly allocate our capacity and to ensure your security of supply, please have an authorized representative sign in the space provided below and return to me within fourteen (14) days of today's date. Lhoist will hold this adjusted product price through 2024 for Cameron Ashley Building Products if a signed copy is returned within this time frame. This offer will be rescinded if we do not receive a signed copy of this letter within fourteen (14) days from today's date.

We appreciate your business and the continued confidence you have placed in Lhoist for your lime needs. We look forward to continuing to supply those needs in the future.

Sincerely,

Darren Fry
